Once upon a time, there was a boy named Billy who had a very special heart. It wasn't a regular heart like everyone else's. Billy's heart was shaped like a rainbow!

Billy was proud of his rainbow heart. He loved the way it made him feel special and unique. But not everyone understood Billy's heart.

Some people were afraid of Billy's rainbow heart. They didn't understand why it was different. They called him names and made fun of him.

Billy felt sad and alone. He didn't know why people didn't like his rainbow heart. He just wanted to be loved and accepted.

One day, Billy met a wise old man. The old man told Billy that his rainbow heart was a gift. It was a symbol of his love and compassion for others.

The old man told Billy that not everyone would understand his heart, but that he should never be ashamed of it. He should be proud of who he was.

Billy took the old man's words to heart. He realized that his rainbow heart was a beautiful thing. It was a part of who he was, and he wouldn't change it for the world.

Billy started to stand up for himself. He told the people who made fun of him that he was proud of his rainbow heart. He told them that it was a symbol of his love and compassion.

Slowly but surely, people started to understand Billy's heart. They realized that it was a beautiful thing. They apologized for the way they had treated him.
